tomary for this glad season to the queen of the kitchen the widest variety of good things that will please the palate, and in this respect the North most good women, for the Norf market, always excellent, affords this season a variety the ing epicure.

First, of course, in the line of needfuls for the holiday table is fruit, and this is here in great profusion and variety, with the golden globes from Jamaica, Central America, Florida and California, displayed everywhere. Aside from the banana, probably the consumption of oranges is increasing faster than any other fruit. Within the past year the local market has been largely supplied with the West Indian and Central American oranges on account of the establishment here of a large fruit steamship line by the Norfelk and West India Fruit and Steamship Company. These oranges have a distinctive flavor, much admired by consumers, and being shipped in barrels arrive here in the best of condition. The local demand for bananas is supplied from the same sources and by the same company above named. They also now supply this market with coconnuts and quantilities of lemons.

In the line of domestic fruits the apple is king, and this is here in ample quantities to meet the great demands of the holidays. The favorite varieties in Norfolk are the King Tomlin Sweet, Gilidower. The Baldwin, a coarser, highly colored apple of great keeping qualities, is handled here in the largest quantities. The Albemarle Pippin, in some places deemed the king of apples and the highest priced apple in the world, although a Virginia product, is only here in limited quanproduct, is only here in limited quanthe world, although a Virgir duct, is only here in limited qua-es, the bulk of the crop going

The past year has been a good one for dealers in these lines. They have enjoyed a large volume of trade and prices have been fair for both seller and consumer. Within the past few days business has been particularly brisk, and it is assured that Christmas Day will find Norfolkians enjoying, as usual, the best good things that can be wished for.

AFTERMATH OF THE WRECK.

THE JENNIE HALL WAS LOADED WITH ASPHALT FOR BAL-TIMORE.

WITH ASPHALT FOR BALTIMORE.

The schooner Jennie Hail, of 412 tons gross register, was built at Columbia Hails, Me., in 1833, by J. H. Crandon. She was loaded with nearly 690 tons of asphalt at La Brea, Trinidad, for the Maryland Paving Company, of Baltimore. The schooner was going to pieces at last reports, and, with her cargo, will be a total loss.

Captain Lamson, of the Hail, was a resident of Addison, Me. He was formerly master of the schooner Fannie Brown, of Richmond, which was run down and sunk off the coast two years ago. Captain Andrew B. Hail, of Machias, Me., was the managing owner of the Hail. F. L. Clayton, Harrison T. Beacham, Joseph Claridge, Robert H. Smith and Farland & Bush, of Baltimore, were part owners of the vessel. Captain Charles Nelson, of the Merritt Wrecking Company, made an examination of the wreck, but deemed it impossible to save anything of value.

Christmas at the Alms House.

When one looks at the bill of fare to be provided by Superintendent H. A. Tarrall, for the inmates of the almshouse on Christmas Day, it makes one hungry, and is an assurance that at least a portion of our poor will have a jolly good time.

The Christmas dinner will be made up of the following good things, and these will be in abundance and to spare: Roast turkey, corned hams, cabbage, celery, pickles, stewed prunes, apple pie, mince pie, fruit cake, lady fingers and jumbles, oranges, Baldwin apples, raisins, bananas, mixed nuts, mixed candy.

Hung Jury in the Cottage Toll Bridge Company Suit.

Norfolk Police-J. W. Murphy Convict-

It will be remembered that some time go the Cottage Toll Bridge Company egan suit in the Norfolk County Court began suit in the Norfolk County Court against John Mariner, the matter at issue being a few inches of land at a point where the plaintiff company claimed the grounds of the Virginia State Fair and Agricultural Association, as established, encroached on their property. The contention was raised recently when Mr. Mariner became interested with interests deemed antagonistic to the toil bridge company. In a jury of eleven men ten were for Mariner's views and one for the plaintiff,

CHRISTMAS FLOWERS

Nature's Own Beautiful Poems and Their Message to Man.

Notable in the feautres that enter into the preparations for Christjoy of this happy season, are the flowers that will be used to decorate the homes of Norfolk. Every year the amount of flowers used increases and the skill of the florist is taxed to its uttermost to produce new and charming varieties.

Norfolk has a large flower trade, and this steadily grows as the population increases and added wealth affords greater means to gratify improving artistic tastes:

greater means to gratify improving artistic tastes. The trade here is no longer local merely, for Norfolk's flower stores and hot houses supply beautiful blooms that are shipped to all parts of our environing section. Within the past few years a number of new hot houses have been erected here, and these furnish an abundance of all the choice varieties of flowers and potted plants, and our local floral artists are equal to the task of meeting the most exacting demands for elaborate floral designs.

THE POPULAR VARIETIES. The most popular flowers at Christ-mas time are roses, carnations and violets. After these come the narcissus, azaleas, cyclamen, &c

In decorative potted plants of course the graceful paim easily leads, but other favorites include ferns, begonias rubber plants, hyacinths, narcissus.

THE ROSES.

The rose, queen of flowers, is being shown in such varieties as bride's bridesmaid, pearl, Kaiserlne, liberty, meteor, American Beauties and President Carnet meteor, American Beauties and President Carnot.

The new rose of the season is the plak American Beauty. This is the old favorite, but in a new shade of pink, beautiful and clear in color.

THE CARNATIONS. THE CARNATIONS.

These beautiful flowers, in pink, white and yellow, are now seen in great profusion. The principal varieties are the Scott, McGowan, White Cloud, Flora Hill, Jubliee, Eldorado and Chicago. Norfolk has this year produced a beautiful new carnation, named the Lucia, in honor of a Norfolk lady. This is a vigorous, erect grower of rich maroon color and will no doubt become a great favorite.

THE VIOLETS. Violets, always popular, are usually scarce at Christmas, but a fair supply is now on hand. The staple variety, that sells all the year around, is the English violet. Other popular kinds are the California, Marie Louise, Lady Home-Campbell, Thorley and Fauquier.

SYMBOL OF CHRISTMAS. Of all decorations, however, the holly is the long accepted symbol of Christmastide. This is now in market in abundance and its solid, green pointed leaves are brilliantly set out by the red berries. This is here in great bulky branches and floral wreaths and so low in price that it is easily at the command of the humblest purses.

THE FERNS. Florists could not, however, do with-out the ferns. These are used in abundance, both cut as a component part of floral designs, but also in beau-tiful ferneries that give one thoughts of woodsy nooks and babbling brooks in the paints of nature.

Among all the poets perhaps no one has so sweetly voiced the mission of the flowers as Wordsworth, when he

"God made the flowers to beautify the earth

And cheer man's careful mood,
And he is happiest who has power
To gather wisdom from a flower Anw wake his heart in every hour To pleasant gratitude."

The Crittenden Home

It is suggested that while charitable people are sending around the good things for Christmas cheer, the Florence Crittenden Home will not be forgotten. This home shelters a number of unfortunates, and in this time of "Peace on earth, good will to man," they should not be forgotten.

that the hides had been stolen from Mr. Wiley N. Jennings, of Elizabeth City, N. C., from whose place they were taken last Thursday night. The prisoner was arraigned in the Police Court and confronted by Mr. Jennings, who identified Barnes as a negro resident of Elizabeth City.

Barnes alleged that be paid a man in Elizabeth City $10 for the furs, but could not give the name or description of the party. His recollection of the party. His recollection of the party. His recollection of the party. The prisoner was been notified of his arrest.

HEIZENDERGER RELEASED. Louis Heizenderger, brought back from Baltimore Friday to answer the charge of failing to account for $19 to the Carroll Springs Compressed Yeast Company, was released yesterday, as the case was settled out of court. Heizenderger was formerly an employee of the yeast company.

In the Folice Court yesterday Frank Butts and Henry Anderson, both colored, were held for the January grand Jury. They are accused of stealing a quantity of clgars and whiskey from A. Abano, of 561 Bute street.

RECORD WHEEL AND RIDER.

THIRTY MONTHS OLD NORFOLK TOT WHO CAN RIDE WELL.

TOT WHO CAN RIDE WELL.

So far as we know Norfolk may now claim the youngest bloycle rider in the South, if not in the world. This little pedaller is the 30-months-old son of Mr. N. B. Joynes, and Santa Claus was given a special contract to build a model little bicycle for him.

Sometime ago his little brother let the baby ride on his own wheel and the little fellow was such an apt pupil that he was riding the wheel as if it was an old thing with him.

When the baby's newest accomplishment was told to Mr. Joynes he decided then and there to have built for the baby one of the finest wheels that skilled mechanics could construct. The result is a model little bicycle built like a watch and as pretty as a new red wagon, that can be seen today in the show window of A. A. O'Neill & Bro.

The bloycle frame is 12 inches black

Bro.

The bicycle frame is 12 inches high and is made of regular sized tubing. The wheels are 16 inches, fittled with pneumatic tires. The seat is the smallest sized child's saddle and the color is black. It was made by the Shelby Cycle Co., of Shelby, O.

The business department of the Virginian-Pilot was visited last night by a gay party of young girls and boys, who had been out on a masquerade. They were dressed in grotesque costumes and each had a horn, and each tried to "toot things up" to their utmost ability. Those in the party were the Missess Annie Smith, Marie Lawrence, Estelle Richards, Alma Knight, and Masters Hunter and Alonza Knight and George Lawrence.

Before starting on the masquerade the party was tendered a reception at the home of Miss Marie Lawrence, where everything good to eat was given to them to dispose of.
